In order to help reduce the public's potential exposure to lead in drinking water, it was determined by the USEPA that all potable water systems create a lead service line inventory. The inventory is required to include material information on both the water system owned portion and privately owned portion of all service lines served by that water system purveyor and to be publicly available.

We reviewed 50 years of service documentation, as well as performed excavation in the field to confirm the material type at each water system owned portion of the service line.

Even though the Association's jurisdiction ends at the meter, the USEPA requires material information on the privately owned portion of the member's service line to be reported as part of this new rule. Therefore, the Association mailed out a survey to those members whose homes were built after the state ban of lead in drinking water, asking for any material information on their private service line on the downstream side of the meter. Many members responded with material information that was added to the inventory which also helped to reduce the overall cost to the membership in order to comply with this regulation.

The Association reports that NO LEAD Service Lines were discovered in the inventory on the water system owned portion of the service lines.

The Association's service line inventory was submitted to the Department of Health on October 1st, 2024, prior to the October 16th, 2024 deadline.

As this is an ongoing effort to continue to acquire material information on the members' private service line for those that have not yet been provided, please complete the survey below if you have any information on your private service line material type and return it to the Association, or you may call the office at the above phone number to provide the information.

We appreciate your cooperation in assisting us with this federal requirement.

Dear Member,

You may have recently heard more news about lead in drinking water and the potential health risks it can pose. The EPA has recently revised regulations related to lead or galvanized steel pipes used for drinking water. A segment of that change requires water purveyors to research and document the pipe material types that are installed on both sides of the water meter. The Association has records that describe most service materials installed to the meter as that is where our jurisdiction ends. However, the Association has virtually no information on the member's private service line downstream of the meter.

If you have been involved in the modification or replacement of your private service line or have any information that you can provide to us about your service line, it will help reduce the overall cost to our membership as your Association works to comply with this new regulation.

Please fill out any/all information you may know below related to your private service line and return it to us. This could be enclosed with your residential water payment or sent separately. If you would rather speak with us directly to relay the requested information or have questions, please call the office at (360) 568-8022. We appreciate your cooperation in assisting us with this federal requirement.
